2nd Front or Defeat

IN his Washington-Merry-Go-Round broadcast (Aug 2, 6:30 pm, WJZ) Drew Pearson said that Hitler had withdrawn another 150,000 troops, leaving occupied Europe stripped, and hurled them against Russians in the Caucasus. Pearson predicted that if Churchill refused to open a Second Front now—before Sept—Germans would seize not only oil-fields, but Iraq, Persia, all European Russia up to Urals, then face Churchill with 2,000,000 fresh troops, threatening United Nations with defeat. Pearson's broadcast was a warning to Churchill and United Nations: either a 2nd Front before the moon changed or threat of losing war next Spring.

Wall St View

THE Wall St press is generally more honest than the commercial daily press. It makes no pretense of serving the people, as most newspapers do, but frankly states the views of manufacturers, corporations, owners of America. Next to venality, the outstanding fault with most daily papers is hypocrisy, but this kind of hypocrisy does not exist in Wall St.

The Wall St Journal (July 25) publishes one of the most remarkable pronouncements on the war. Written by Columnist Felix Morley, it claims that the question of enslavement, which faces Russia, does not concern America; therefore the US can still lose the war and get along very nicely. "Whatever the ultimate outcome, few really believe that the status of this country as a Great Power is seriously endangered," writes Morley. And why has no 2nd Front been opened? Morley answers: "One fact in particular indicates that the war is rightly or wrongly, regarded as less critical in both Great Britain and the US than is the case in Russia. That is the failure, in spite of much talk and exhortation, to establish a 2nd Front. No matter how great the risk of disaster that diversion would be attempted this summer, if either the British or ourselves were wholly convinced that the German menace will later be as great for the democracies as it is today for Russia . . . A Japanese attack in Siberia would only follow coldblooded conclusion that Russia's doom is certain and would, of course, be calculated to precipitate that doom. Then Anglo-American failure to do everything possible to avert Russian collapse would have to be construed as meaning that in the popular mind the contemplated catastrophe has no really disastrous personal significance."

Pro-Nazi Textbook Used in Mid-West Schools, Colleges . . . p. 1

US Probe of Fascism in N Y Schools Demanded . . . p. 2

Big Business Used Mrs Dilling's Redbaiting for Murder . . . p. 3

CHALLENGED to do so by the University of Nebraska, Lewis Booth, associate editor Official Union Journal, Cincinnati, and frequent contributor to IN FACT, has turned over to J Edgar Hoover of the FBI a textbook used in high schools and colleges in the United States which is the most arrogant and obvious Nazi propaganda.

The textbook is used mostly in the middle West. With a copy of the book sent to the FBI was a letter, written after Pearl Harbor, endorsing and defending the book, by the chancellor of the University of Nebraska.

Throughout America there are still in use books favoring Mussolini and Italian Fascism as well as books boosting Hitler and Naziism. There are also being distributed throughout the public schools books favoring Fascist ideas but disguised as pure Americanism. The National Ass'n of Manufacturers (NAM) prints and gives these books away.

On the other hand the NAM for several years has engaged in a witch hunt, eliminating from our public schools every book telling the facts about public ownership of public utilities, the value of cooperatives, the dangers in fraudulent advertising; the NAM has succeeded in eliminating from many sections books which uphold the pure democracy which Jefferson, Jackson and Lincoln preached. They have had substituted books favoring the monopolies, the trusts, the cartels, etc, which the NAM calls "The American Way." The NAM was able to do this because many newspapers, shocked by the fact that liberal writers questioned the value of advertising, joined the corporation managers in the witch hunt against honest books.

Extracts From Book Turned Over to the FBI

The book which Mr Booth turned over to the FBI is called "In Deutschland." It is written by Joseph E A Alexis, Ph D, assoc prof of Germanic languages, U of Neb, and Wilhelm K. Pheiler, Ph D, assoc prof. Printed by Midwest Book Co, Lincoln, Neb. Copyright 1930 and 1938 by Alexis. In the 1930 edition all the pictures were of Republican Germany. In the 1938 edition many of the pictures show the swastika.

The introduction gives thanks to Wolfgang O Froberg of Berlin, the Hamburg-Amerika line, North German Lloyd, Orbis-photo of Berlin, and the German Railroads Information Office of NYC, the latter being the Nazi propaganda bureau exposed in the trial of George Sylvester Viereck, now in jail as a Nazi agent.

There is no Nazi propaganda in the first 45 pages, although on p 42 the remark is made that there are many things about the new order which are misunderstood in America. To explain the arrival of Hitler, the two Nebraska writers give conversations between an American student tourist and a Nazi. The heavy reparations are blamed for Germany's economic collapse. This is not historically true. The reparation sum, which was fantastic, was later settled for a few cents on the dollar. The German inflation in fact was helped along by Hugo Stinnes and others who profited from it and who were Hitlerites.

Page 46 has the German saying: "For us Germans Hitler is not a dictator."

The conversation goes on like this: the American visitor asks what benefits Naziism has brought Germany, and the German gives a list of benefits: freedom from the Versailles treaty; order has been restored; there are no unemployed; now everyone has again become a soldier; the Rhineland is entirely German; and every German can now be respected. "A new and better age for the German people." When Walter, the American, asks why there are opponents of Naziism throughout the world, Herr Klinger, the dummy who speaks for the two Nebraska professors, replies: "We in Germany are of the opinion that what is lacking in the world is a real knowledge of Germany and Adolf Hitler." (p 48)

At the end of the chapter the American thanks the Nazi for this enlightenment on Germany.

movement is lauded. The labor system, called slave labor by the League of Nations and by all who have escaped Germany even before 1938 when this book was written, is approved by the Nebraska profs. The school system, exposed by Erika Mann as pure corruption of youth, and perversion of the mind of a generation, is approved by the Nebraska profs. In fact, everything Nazi is discussed and approved.

On page 151 there is a picture of Hitler at Nuremberg, where the anti-Semitic laws were promulgated. Page 211 states: "The German people voted for Hitler with a large majority." This is a falsehood. Hitler had a minority in all votes until his troops took over, when the notorious 98 or 99 per cent "Ya" election was held.

Page 213 compares the U S and Nazi school systems, in favor of the Nazi.

Page 229: "Munich is historic because Hitler founded his party in this city in the year 1919." This is not important, but Hitler did not found his party; he was the 7th member; 3 other guys founded it.

Finally, on page 233 it is disclosed that the front page picture, which is captioned "Welcome to Germany" is actually of Hitler's Berchtesgaden.

Chancellor Boucher Defends Nazi Propaganda Book

Before taking any action, Mr Booth wrote to Chancellor Chauncey Samuel Boucher, of the University of Nebraska asking him if he realized his school was spreading outright Goebbels propaganda, and that this book was being sold to many high schools and colleges. It is significant that Chancellor Boucher's reply is dated after Pearl Harbor. Chancellor Boucher begins by endorsing the "national loyalty and patriotism" of Dr Alexis and Dr Pheiler. He then states that in World War I "there were many witch hunts in many communities, and there were too many instances in which innocent and honest citizens were persecuted and seriously injured." This is true. Murder was committed. Innocent persons with German names were attacked. Even the lowly dachshund was kicked around. In this war there are almost no instances of German-Americans who are not pro-Nazi having been attacked. But Chancellor Boucher concludes:

"If you think that you have valid reasons for suspecting the loyalty and patriotism of Dr Alexis and Dr Pheiler, may I respectfully suggest that you turn your evidence over to the FBI and ask them to investigate it." Since the book itself is obvious pro-Nazi propaganda, Mr Booth has accepted this challenge and asked the FBI to decide whether or not it is to be continued in the U of Neb and other middle-West institutions of learning.

It may also be noted that when the LaFollette investigating committee exposed the corruption of the NAM it included its propaganda campaign in the schools and colleges. Evidence was given that the NAM hired a number of college professors to write its anti-labor, pro-monopoly propaganda. This was known as "Six Star Service," furnished free to hundreds of newspapers. Among the hired professors were: Lutz of Princeton, Spahr and Fackler of NYU, Gus Dyer of Vanderbilt, Neil Caruthers of Lehigh and J E LeRossignol, dean of the University of Nebraska.

U S PROBE OF FASCISM IN N Y SCHOOLS DEMANDED

IN the New York schools, according to charges made last week by the National Federation for Constitutional Liberties, organized defeatist and morale-busting activities by pro-Fascists are still going on. The Federation called a conference of more than 90 New York organizations July 27, at which the charges were made public in detail, and a Federal grand jury investigation demanded. Except for one smear story in Hearst's Journal-American, and a fair report in the Brooklyn Eagle, the commercial press suppressed news of the conference. These same papers gave many columns of space to the red-baiting statements and reports of the Coudert committee, headed by State Senator Frederic R. Coudert, Jr, whose law firm represents the Fascist Vichy gov't.

The conference—called Conference for Victory Over Fascism in our Schools—centered attention on the American Education Association; Milo F MacDonald, principal of Bushwick High School, Brooklyn; Prof Edward I Fenlon of Brooklyn College; Timothy Murphy, formerly at the Gompers Vocational High School, now at Chelsea Vocational High School; and Prof George T Renner of Teachers College, Columbia University, as among those actively engaged in anti-Semitic activities, fostering defeatist propaganda in the schools, or in other ways hampering the nation's war effort. Coudert's committee has shielded these individuals and organizations. As chairman of the federation, George Marshall said:

"Last week's indictment of 28 Fascist and pro-Fascist agents, on charges of sedition, though an accomplishment, serves to demonstrate the large number of pro-Axis individuals and organizations who are still carrying on their work and who must be exposed and prosecuted. One facet of this national problem is the insidious activity being carried on in our public schools—through Coughlin-like papers such as the Educational Signpost, through organizations such as the American Educational Association, and through individuals in the school system.

"One example that serves to illustrate the problem concerns a meeting of 'Women United' on November 11, 1941. The meeting was addressed by three haven't made up their minds, but 60% want the attack to be made in 1942. These are the Gallup Poll results from Britain.

However, the most influential newspaper in America, the NYTimes, reporting a crowd of 60,000 in Trafalgar Sq demanding a 2nd Front, says: "Mingling in the crowd were young men and women who looked as though they had been transplanted from Union Sq."

The term "Union Sq" has been used by Coughlin, Pelley, Mrs Dilling and other Fascists and anti-Semites as a synonym for both Communists and Jews. The Times, which is owned by a Jew, accepted Nazi advertising up to 90 days before the outbreak of the war. (Roman proverb: money doesn't stink). The Times has for 20 years employed Fascists and pro-Fascists on its staff. Two of them signed a manifesto in favor of Gen Franco after he had massacred thousands of men, women and children in Spain. Another, a native-born Italian, who wrote pro-Mussolini news from Rome, later pro-Fascist news from Mexico, and after the Council for Pan-American Democracy protested, he was transferred to Argentina (of all places). The smear attack on the 2nd Front quoted above was signed by Raymond Daniell.

The Ford Payoff

EVERY year the newspapers pay off to Henry Ford with a laudatory birthday interview July 30. This year they did the same for one of America's biggest advertisers. Aforementioned Times ran one July 30, 2-col feature head, p 1; another July 31, with 3-col photo. Apparently Ford had nothing to say, since Times head was: FORD PREDICTS ERA OF CARGO SHIPS.

Bernard Shaw's birthday comes same week. Shaw gets $1 a word for his stuff; interviews are rare and always played up big. But most American papers (NYT Jul 1, 26, p 20 for example) this year ran only a tiny paragraph on Shaw interview. Shaw, according to Associated Press, said that "Britain must sovietize its political machinery after the war. . . . Of all the possible systems of gov't . . . 'the British parliamentary system, supposed to be a model for all democracies, is the very worst.'"

Urge War on Finland

AMONG the 337 prominent Americans who signed a petition to the President asking for an immediate declaration of war on Finland—did your local paper carry the news?—were 13 union officials, including Vice Pres Robinson of CIO, VP Breslaw of Int'l Ladies Garment Workers (AFL), Chairman E S Smith of Oil Workers, Pres Selley of Am Communications (CIO), and Pres Henderson of United Cannery Workers.

Anti-Fascist Japanese

FROM Tanforan Assembly Center, Karl Ichiro Akiya writes IN FACT: "Those who have hitherto been confused about the evacuation must look, not backward to the circumstances which resulted in the evacuation program, but forward to keeping in mind the first necessity of winning the war. We feel this is the prerequisite to insuring future security and democratic rights of Japanese as a part of the American people." This is one example of the splendid spirit among anti-Fascist Japanese. American Civil Liberties Union, notably California branch, is protesting evacuation, maintaining rights of loyal American Japanese, especially those of American-born, from whom native Fascists want to take citizenship. (IN FACT headline erred in naming Tanforan a "concentration" camp. Among those calling attention to error are the Japanese-Americans who live there.)

$42.79 An Hour Raise

THE industrialists who claim that even the 44¢-a-day raise for labor will ruin America by bringing on inflation, and impoverish the steel trust, voted themselves a $42.79 an hour increase in 1941. Tom Girdler of Republic (the company responsible for Chicago massacre) reported increase of $99,000 to SEC. Computed on 40-hour-week basis, Girdler raised himself $42.79. Total salary now: $275,000. Eugene Grace of Bethlehem received $537,724 in 1941, raise of $59,580; or $28.64 an hour increase.

Hundreds of newspapers, scores of columnists, dozens of radio commentators fooled almost the entire American people with the bunk about inflation to follow a $1-a-day raise. Even before labor board granted steelworkers 44¢, labor members Geo Meany Robert Watt, R J Thomas and Thomas Kennedy proved that this nationwide propaganda was a falsehood. Their statement: "Inasmuch as the majority does not and can not contend that granting the wage adjustment of $1 in the form of war bonds would be inflationary, its whole argument collapses." Did your paper carry this?

Press and Labor Unity

BEST news for labor in years is the announcement that CIO and AFL are finally getting together to talk organic unity of the two great organizations. This will have a very chilling effect on the move to form a so-called "rival" to both the AFL and CIO, which the press played up last week, and which turned out to be, as the Federated Press reports, an enterprise by "company unions which have been legally clever enough to escape the NLRB."

Openly announced aim of the company-union federation, according to Donald F Cameron of Milwaukee, who said in Chicago he represented the "Associated Unions of America," was to disrupt American workers' legitimate organizations. It got a speedy blessing in the anti-labor press, the NY Herald Tribune saying editorially: "The inclination to sympathize with them and wish them godspeed will be widespread." The HT asked, "Is it necessary or wise?" and answered that "it is inevitable." Cameron tried to claim the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen for his outfit, but Pres A F Whitney promptly denied it.

speakers: William Leonard, Executive Chairman of the Brooklyn Chapter of the America First Committee, named in the Grand Jury indictments last week; Laura Ingalls, now serving a prison sentence for violation of the Foreign Agents Registration Act (a conviction resulting from her activities on behalf of the German Government as a speaker for the America First Committee during the latter half of 1941 when this particular meeting took place); and Dr Edward I Fenlon of Brooklyn College."

The Signpost is published by the American Education Association, which tries to look like the National Educational Association, a genuine—if highly conservative—organization of educators. Originally the AEA was called the Educational Discussion Group. The Signpost, edited by Milo F McDonald, appeared in 1938. It follows a line closely parallel to that of Social Justice, compounded of anti-Semitism and justification of Fascism as an antidote for Communism.

Of the individuals mentioned, Prof Edward I Fenlon's political views were set forth in January, 1940 (as reported in the Brooklyn Tablet):

"I would like to see everyone wary when it comes to this ceaseless, this inane talk concerning 'democracy' . . . This talk was started and is kept alive by our Communist brethren and their so-called 'liberal' friends. And what does it signify? Nothing. It is a mere rebellious, anarchistic, paganistic shibboleth."

Timothy Murphy, accused of anti-Semitic, anti-Negro and anti-Italian bias, was transferred recently from the Gompers Vocational High School to the Chelsea Vocational High School. Prof. Margaret Schlauch, of NY University, in her keynote address to the conference, said:

"We are concerned here particularly with the relationship between Mr Murphy and Werner Grunewald, who has been linked by investigators of the American Jewish Congress to the Nazi Bund. A postcard was sent by Murphy to Grunewald urging the latter 'to come to school and talk to some of our members who are schooled in methods of joining the ranks.' The City Reporter has evidence that Mr Murphy made a practice of sounding out boys for membership in the Christian Front.

"In June of this year, in an issue of Collier's magazine, there appeared an astounding article written by Professor George T Renner of Teachers College. In his article Professor Renner develops a 'theory' of geography according to which, in the natural order of events, the "strong" nations must gobble up the weak ones. Basing himself on this so-called 'science' that bears such a marked resemblance to the Geo-politik advanced by the Nazi Professor Haushofer, he draws the following conclusions:

"That in the new world map that is to be drawn, Germany is to be enlarged with slices of Poland, all of Austria, Hungary and the Sudetenland, with sections of Rumania, Switzerland, Belgium and Holland thrown in, together with the Belgian Congo, Portugese Angola, and British Rhodesia. Italy is to receive the Dalmatian Coast, Corsica, Nice, Tunisia, and all of Libya. Japan is to get Manchuria and the Soviet Maritime Provinces, including Vladivostok. Spain and Finland are to be similarly rewarded. Belgium, Switzerland, Holland, Portugal and other small nations are to be exterminated and divided up among the "strong" powers.

"Walter Lippman in his column of June 30, 1942, in the Herald Tribune, put the case against Professor Renner very well when he said: 'While he has no political influence, he is a teacher in an institution which trains teachers who go to all parts of the country. He is a professor in an institution which exercises immense influence upon American education. The outlook for American civilization would be very dark indeed if Professor Renner's habits of mind were to become at all general in American colleges.'

MRS DILLING'S RED BAITING USED FOR MURDER

AMONG the assistants of Mrs. Elizabeth Dilling, author of "The Red Network," recently indicted with 27 others as seditious, were:

Miss Margaret Kerr, executive sec'y of Better America Federation, a California native Fascist outfit subsidized by Big Business for the purpose of smashing labor.

Walter Steele, manager of the National Republic magazine. Mrs Dilling, in her dedication of her book to Kerr, Steele and others, urged American Fascists to subscribe to Steele's anti-labor publication.

Harry Augustus Jung, head of the American Vigilant Intelligence Federation, exposed years ago as notorious wholesale peddler of the forgeries known as "Protocols of Zion" which Coughlin later reprinted in Social Justice. Mrs Dilling states that "Mr Jung kindly loaned the author some documents." Furthermore, Jung had his offices in the Chi Tribune Tower and was known as one of Col McCormick's advisers on "reds." Jung not only is an anti-Semite but he has fought labor and especially the CIO.

Lieut Nelson E Hewitt, whom Mrs Dilling styles "a super-expert-patriot who has devoted 12 years of his life to active statistical work and study on Red subversive activities, who edits the Advisory Associates weekly Bulletins which every 'super-patriot' needs." This Chicagoan gave Mrs Dilling "greatest personal aid . . . checking and supplying information."

Francis Ralston Welsh, Philada att'y "and research expert on subversive activities . . . who has sent many excellent reports."

Mrs Dilling also thanks following persons who helped her in her work: Paul

G Armstrong, vice-commander dep't of Illinois American Legion "and many other valiant Legion Commanders; Chicago Military Intelligence; leaders of Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs, Women's Patriotic League; Col Sidney Story; W H Chesbrough, Wisc commander GAR; Maude Howe of the Canadian Christian Crusade; Nesta Webster, "famous" English historian; Mr and Mrs Geo Cretors; John E Waters; Cravath Wells, "famous lecturer."

David Kinley, president-emeritus of University of Illinois, wrote Mrs Dilling thanking her for her "clear and earnest exposition of the situation." Dr W B Riley, sec'y World's Christian Fundamentals Ass'n, and pastor First Baptist Church, Minneapolis, advertised Mrs Dilling's hokum. Russell Cook, nat'l Americanism director, American Legion, stated that Mrs Dilling's collection of prejudices and falsehoods "are proving very useful to us at National Headquarters." In more recent times the American Legion has been advertising and recommending along with Mrs Dilling's "Red Network" a book called "Red Decade" by another redbaiter named Eugene Lyons, editor of the American Mercury, the monthly which under the present ownership introduced the leading Fascist, Lawrence Dennis, to American readers.

At one of the national conventions of the DAR a dispute over endorsement of Mrs Dilling's "Red Network" affected the presidency election. Mrs Wm A Becker, DAR nat'l defense chairman, had approved of Mrs Dilling's buncombe.

American Poison Gas Men Used Dilling Propaganda

Although Mrs Dilling was dismissed as a crackpot and no one even bothered to sue her for libel, the enemies of the American people made good use of her propaganda. In 1939 the LaFollette Committee investigating native Fascist activities against labor published many volumes, one devoted to the Nat'l Ass'n of Manufacturers, another to the Associated Farmers, others to the Republic Steel massacre in Chicago and the Johnstown Citizens Committee, all exposing native Fascism.

Vol 6 of these reports deals largely with Federal Laboratories and Lake Erie Chemical Co, two merchants of death engaged in making poison gas to use against labor. (Up to the present there have been instances of Japanese using poison gas against Chinese and Germans using poison gas against Russians, but no large scale use.) Summing up its investigation the LaFollette Comm reported:

"Section 1. Use of 'Red' Scare in selling munitions.

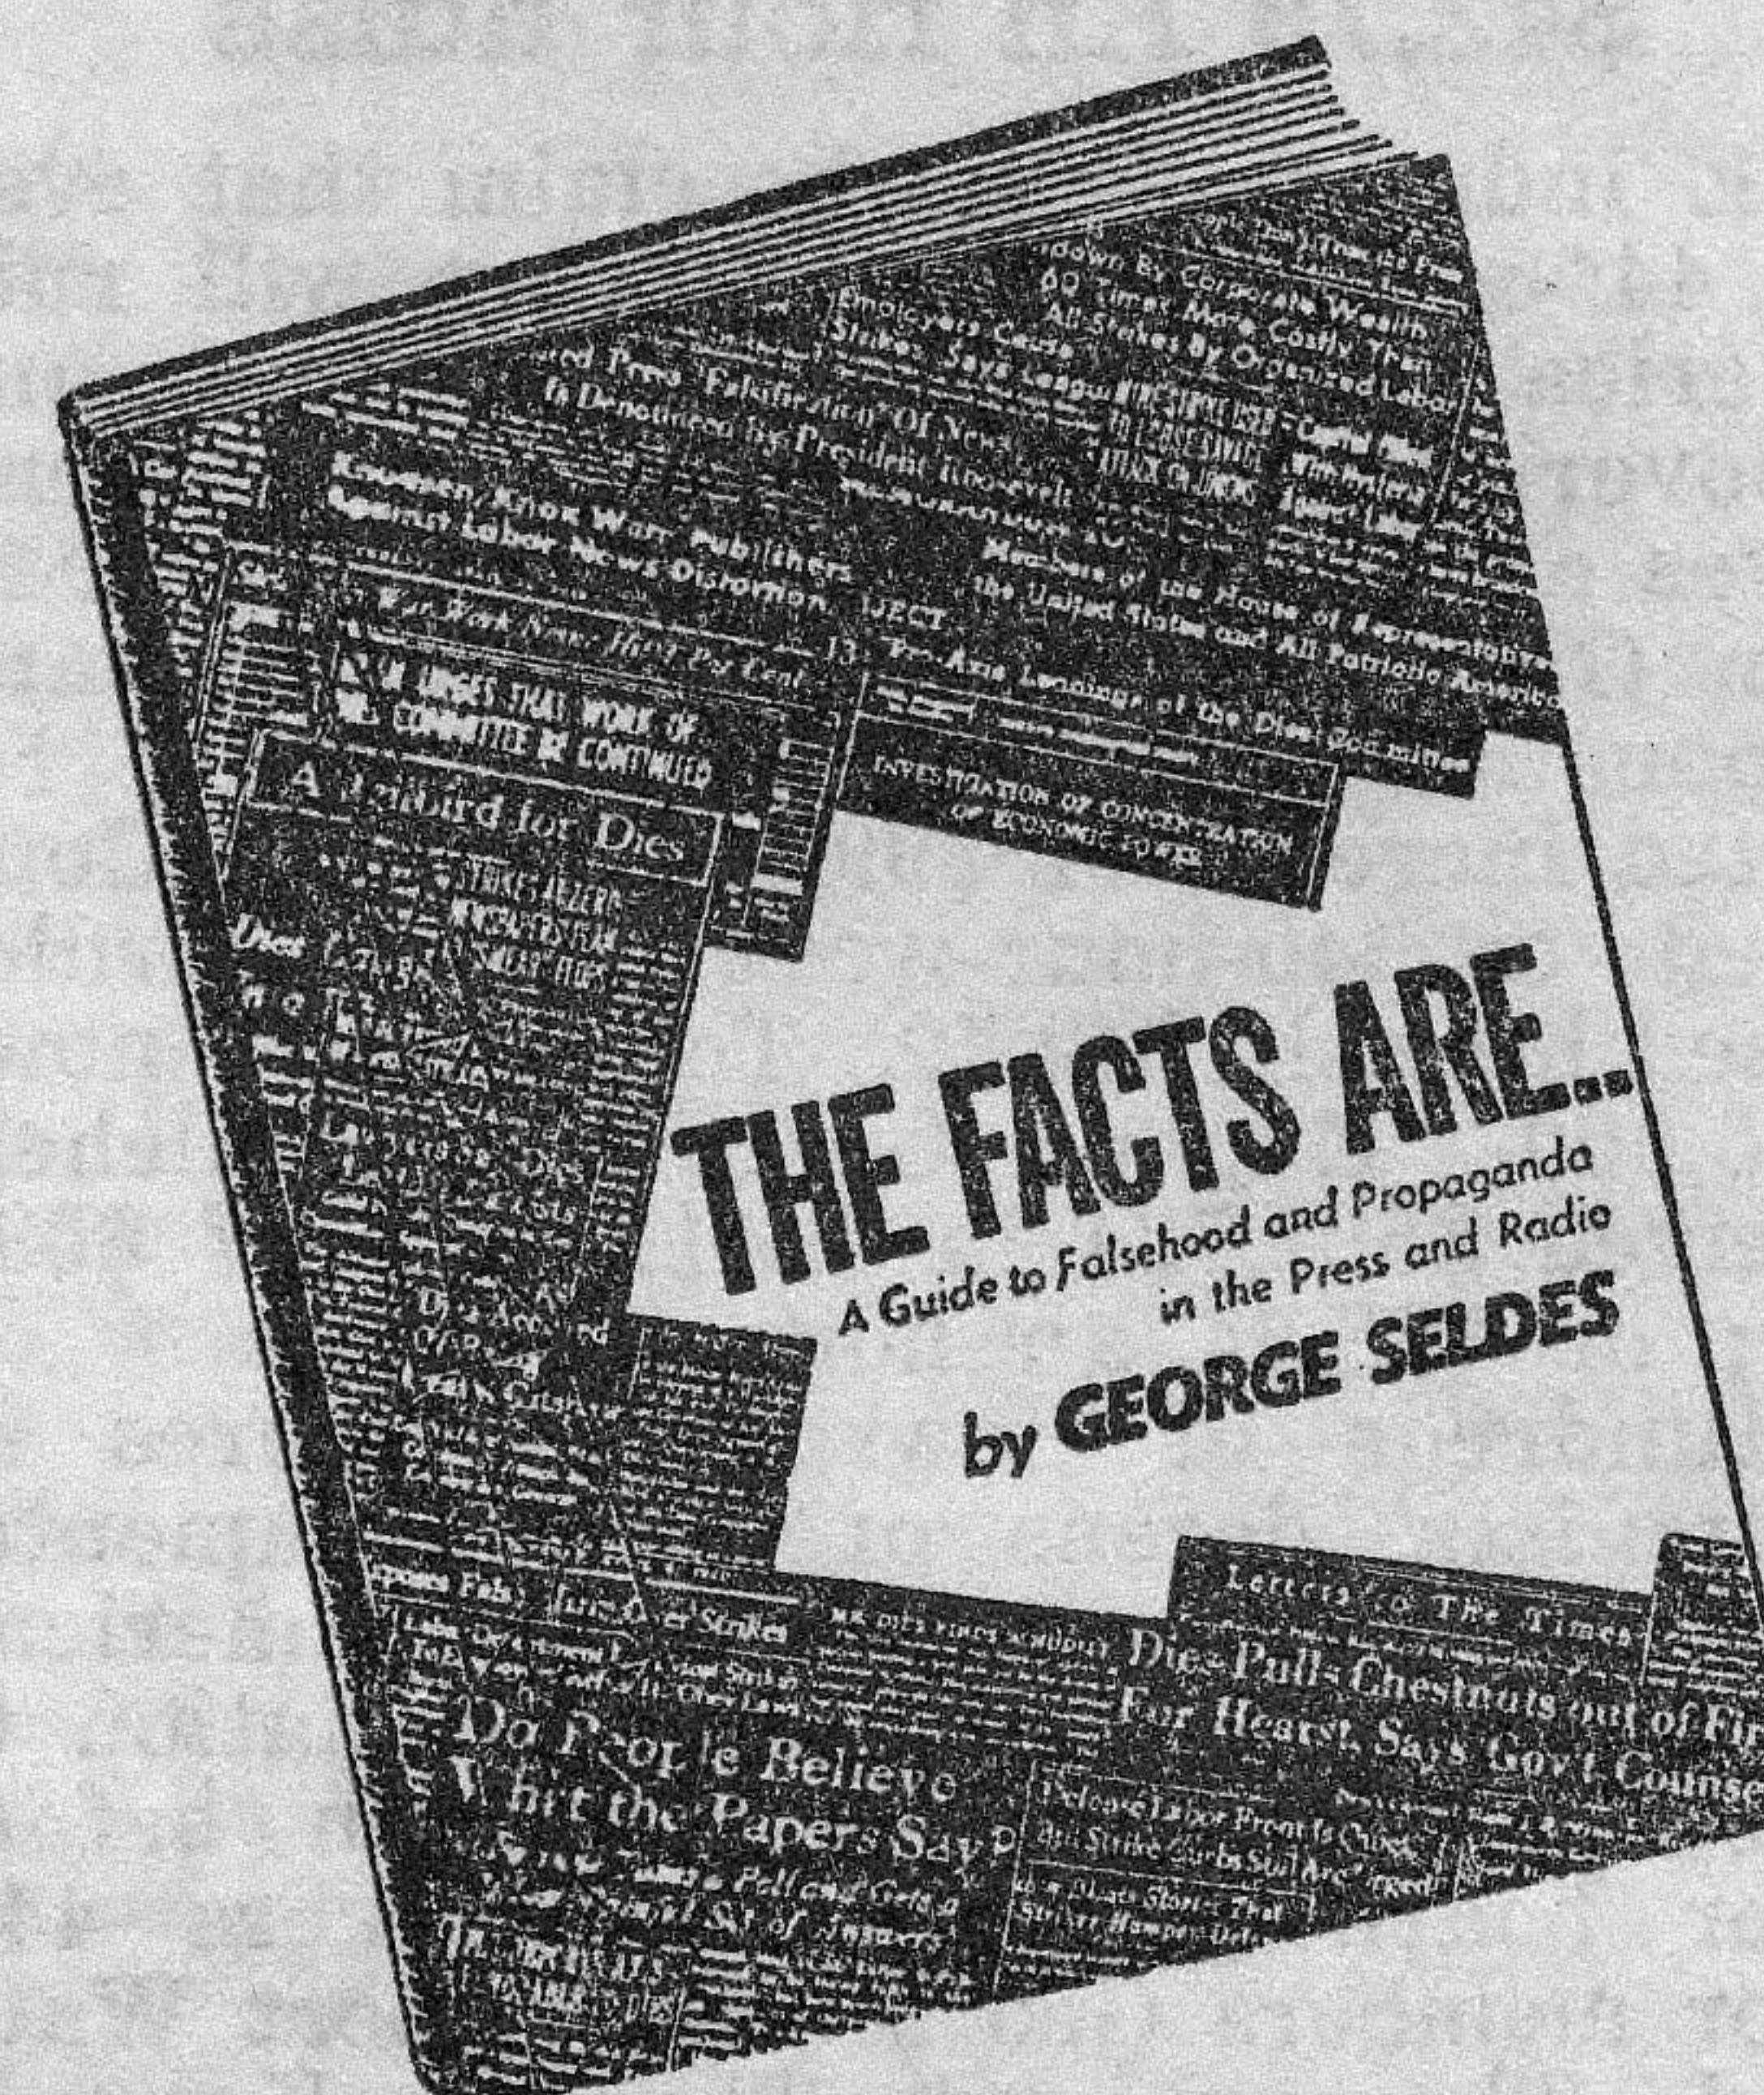

"To prospective customers Federal Laboratories sends large amounts of anti-radical and anti-communist literature. In all, it distributed over 1,500 copies of The Red Network by Elizabeth Dilling. These books were given to the National Guard of each state, to hundreds of police departments, and to all Federal Laboratories salesmen with the recommendation that they be distributed as widely as possible. Through an arrangement with the publishers (Mrs Dilling herself) Federal Laboratories was able to obtain the book at half price. This compendium of misinformation, distortion, and absurdity was distributed as an authority on the American radical movement and as a handbook for the purchaser of tear gas. . . ."

John W Young, head of gas firm, put a Hearst editorial into each copy of the Dilling work. He made clear that he was fighting labor, not radicalism, in a letter the LaFollette Comm also prints, in which he says: "Police departments in small communities can no longer say that they need not worry about trouble. Section 7-A of the National Recovery Act states that labor shall have the right to organize without interference on the part of the employer." Therefore, Mr Young wanted State Guards and city police to buy his poison gas—after reading Hearst and Dilling—in order to fight labor organization. LaFollette Comm concludes that "Young's persistence in distributing the book through his sales force indicates that he must have felt that identifying labor organizations with revolution would aid in the sale of his munitions." (Source: LaFollette hearings on violations of rights of labor, part 6, p. 157.)

In Los Angeles Geo Cake delivered 150 Dilling books to the Junior Chamber of Commerce; ten were given to Standard Oil in San Francisco; Mr Young paid for every copy sent state guard units.

The LaFollette Committee concluded that Young used the Dilling and other propaganda to give "his agents the idea that all labor leaders or strikers were 'reds' and fair game for the gas grenade." As a result Young's salesman, J M Roush had a riot especially staged (with motion pictures) for the purpose of testing his poison gas by the chief of police of San Francisco. Roush wrote: "I shot a long range projectile into a group (of strikers), a shell hitting one man . . . he has since died. As he was a Communist, I have no feeling in the matter and I am sorry that I did not get more." Roush thought he had committed a murder. He was proud. He was congratulated by Federal Laboratories. The LaFollette Comm investigation showed that Roush had hit James Engle, a longshoreman, member of AFL union, not a Communist or radical of any sort. Engle was not killed but permanently injured. The LaFollette Comm concluded: Roush's expressed attitude was of murderous intent. No justification exists in law or morals for an intent to kill people because of their political beliefs." However, Roush, who had been propagandized towards murder by his employer Young, who used Mrs Dilling to pervert the minds of his salesmen, was never arrested.
